

ACU Event Listing Application 2025

The information below outlines the event organiser's commitments as well as the ACU's commitments regarding ACU event listing for 2025.

There is no cost for event listing in 2025.

Event Organiser's Commitments:

1. It is expected that the event will be conducted to a reasonable standard, with due consideration for aid stations, safety, and the wellbeing of competitors and volunteers.
2. A risk management plan must be provided with the event listing application; this plan must reference risks related to weather, fire, traffic, first aid and medical emergencies.
3. The event must have an incident reporting system as part of its safety systems, and any reportable incident occurring during the event must be reported to ACU within four weeks of the event. Incident reporting helps to improve the safety and therefore the quality of events. Accidents and injuries should be reported if they result in a DNF, serious injury, or removal from the race site by medical personnel. Additionally, accidents should be reported if in the opinion of the head official, they could result in a serious injury being reported post-race.
4. The event organiser must provide evidence of public liability insurance for the event a minimum of two weeks before the event. Failure to provide this will result in the listing being delisted.
5. It is the responsibility of the event organiser to determine and obtain all necessary approvals required for their event.
6. The event organiser must be a member of ACU at the time of the listing application, through to the date of the event.
7. Event entry should be discounted for ACU members by a minimum of $10 or 10% per person. If a discount cannot be provided, a suitable reason should be given to ACU. Adding a line to your online registration system asking "Are you a current ACU member?" and "If yes, enter your member number here" (or similar) could be helpful.
8. Full results should be sent to the ACU events listings coordinator within one week of the event. These must be in the required format. An Excel template spreadsheet will be provided for this purpose (our coordinator can assist you if needed - see below). Note: IAU-labelled events should include citizenship data (not just residence) for each participant.
9. Upon event listing approval, the event organiser may publish and promote the fact that the event is "ACU Listed." The words "approved," "sanctioned" and similar shall not be used, as they could mislead participants into believing ACU has overseen the event's safety and other arrangements.

10. Event organisers are expected to not make statements or do any acts which would have the effect of bringing ACU and / or the sport into disrepute.
11. Event organisers will not make any statements on social media or otherwise which would call into question the competence, integrity or reputation of ACU or any of its executive.

ACU's Commitments:

1. Listing of the event on ACU's event page on the canultra.ca website.
2. Promotion of the event through ACU's Facebook and Instagram pages on three occasions prior to the event. The event organiser should liaise with ACU's social media coordinator for these posts.
3. Listing at least once in any email newsletter sent to ACU members prior to the event.
4. Performances in measured events (certified by Grade A, B or C measurer) for road and track will be eligible for national open and age group records.
5. Listed events may apply to hold ACU National Championship events.
6. Event organisers will receive support from ACU in obtaining an IAU label for their event and having their results uploaded to the DUV website for international rankings. Results for IAU-labelled events will be forwarded to the IAU by ACU, on behalf of the event.

ACU reserves the right to not accept events for inclusion in or to add events to its calendar at its sole discretion.

ACU reserves the right to delist events from its calendar at its sole discretion. In such instances, notice will be given to the RD by email with the rationale and the RD will have the right to appeal to the ACU Executive.

ACU maintains the right to determine if an event is to be listed in any subsequent year on a case by case basis. Provision of listing in any given year does not confer a right to listing in subsequent years.
